Hop, Skip, Jump.

By Arthur Brisbane
HEARST RANCH, San
Simone, Cal., Aug. 8.—Shattering Olympic records and world records is part of the routine at the Los Angeles games. You should see some of the extraordinary athletic feats, and there is still time. The games last until the 14th of this month.

Some sports are more widely interesting than others. For instance, everybody in boyhood has spent hours doing the "hop, skip and jump." You hop on one foot, then skip, then land with a broad jump. Thirty-five feet was a good jump at Jackson school house, in Pawnee, N. J.

Chunji Nambu, of Japan, is world champion for all time, with a hop, skip and jump of 51 feet, 7 inches. Try it with a running start. Measure off 51 feet and see how much of it you cannot cover.

It is called by the Olympic authorities "hop, skip and jump," but "skip" is better.
The 50,000 meters walk about 30 miles, interests us all because we all walk. The British are the best walkers and William Green, of Great Britain, won the event in four hours, 59 minutes, 10 seconds.

Jan Kuscinak, of Poland, won the 10,000 meters race in 30 minutes, 11 seconds, a new world record. You observe that nori can run much faster than they can walk. They achieved their sprinting powers long ago, with the hairy man from the next valley chasing them with a sharp flint fastened at the end of a stick.

They learn science in other directions in much the same fashion now. The stick and flint are missing, but competition takes their place.

Out here, airplanes are used to save time in business. Their use is taken for granted, and schedules arranged accordingly.
Soon, Arthur Low, foreign manager for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, starts his regular tour inspecting theaters.

He takes, by ship, to Australia, a powerful airship owned by Hal Roach, whose movies
you know.

From Australia, having flown to Japan, he returns to the United States, stopping at Lima,
Peru; Santiago, Chile; Buenos Ayres and Rio de Janeiro, stopping the round trip in 20 days, with plenty of time at each stopping place.

In a few years any long distance travel, other than by air, will be unknown. Except for a few, very old-fashioned, the sort that, during the Paris exposition, refused to go upstairs in hotel elevators.

Sometimes a woman anxious to nurse her baby, that it may have every chance of survival, is impossible, and many good mothers have been cruelly mis-judged, in consequence.

Very important is the announcement of the Carnegie Institute that scientists have discovered the hormone, or gland secretion, that causes milk production.

Admirable substitutes for mother's milk have been developed, but there is, as yet, no absolute substitute, especially for the first six months of the child's life. In those months mother's milk protects the child from various infantile diseases.
In the young infant the leu-cocytes of white corpuscles, that attack disease within the system, lack power.

The genius may find a way to develop that particular corpuscle on a big scale for commercial use, and help solve the dairymen's problem. You might have the hundred quarts per cow.

Lady Drummond Hay's article on Russia's airplane program, published in the Review, should be sent to everybody in our government. The Review contains of importance. Some of them do not like to think about the future of the world's biggest air fleet, forgetting that there is no cheaper defense.
But they would pay rather than admit that Russia rules the air.

Lady Hay, who has flown around the world and knows airplane, believes that the visiting Moscow, that Russia firmly intends to surpass the United States, now far greatest in the world.

VEIL HIDES LIBBY'S TEARS

Libby Holman Reynolds, youthful and beautiful widow of Smith Reynolds, is shown in telephoto at the courthouse at Wentworth, N. C., after being released on $25,000 bail to await trial for the murder of her husband, Libby, garbed in mourning attire and heavily veiled, is with her lawyer. Damp patches on her veil indicated she wept bitterly during the hearing. (Incl News Telephoto, Other Pictures, Pages 2 and 3)

Wool Dealers Herald
Gains in Business

Business is definitely on the upward trend, Boston wool dealers claim today.
Reference to an extremely active bullish market for the first time in years, with an expected increase in prices, they asserted that the pendulum is swinging to better times.
Heavy purchases of wool by New England mills and other large manufacturers to meet the fall and winter demands, indicate accordingly to local dealers, a positive return towards normalcy.
One expert declared that regardless of who is elected president, business will undoubtedly be better in the fall.

ALL BIG MILLS BUYING
Last week 20,000,000 pounds of wool were traded on the Boston market, equalling the amount previously disposed of in a month.
"We haven't had so much wool in a street since 1928," said Robert L.
Studley of Studley & Emery, Summer at, commission merchants and one of the most prominent of Boston's wool dealers.

"Practically all the large mills are buying, but only in New England but in Philadelphia and elsewhere. The improvement is being taken taken woolen goods are where they are in the New York market and the manufacturers must get their wool in the fall and winter wear in the next six or eight months."

The big firms come into the market first, giving confidence to the smaller manufacturers who follow them. The present activity may not keep up but I will say positively that we are in for an upward trend.

ONLY NEED CONFIDENCE
"We may get some reaction in the stock market. It is incredible to expect it to keep up the pace of the last week or 10 days, but business will be better in the full regardless of who is elected.
We have need confidence."

State Marshal to Probe $10,000
Loss in the Kentucky
Stables' Riding School
Seven horses were lost in a fire, set by a firebug, which destroyed the Kentucky Stables,
a riding school, in Willard st.,
Quincy, owned by Dr. Murray
Britton, early today.

The loss was estimated at $10,000.
Inspector John T. Reardon of the state fire marshal's office was asked to investigate by Deputy Fire Chief O'Neil.

Firemen left not able to race but there had to be a fire, they were badly burned.

The seven horses were in the stable, valued at $2000, was burned to death in the fire.

FIRE SWEEPING
N. Y. SUBWAY
New York, Aug. 9 (AP)—Fire in the Interborough Rapid Transit subway near the Brooklyn Bridge station today forced more than 190 passengers to leave trains and gain the street by emergency exits.

Some were carried to the street suffering from inhaling smoke.
Fire apparatus and ambulances were called.

Lines of hose were run into the subway but the order to turn on the water was not immediately given. Instead a call was sent in for a rescue squad. All police in the region besides themselves planning to go down through emergency exits and assisting or carrying passengers to the street. These fire alarms were turned in, and water was finally poured into the subway suffering from inhaling smoke.

GOVERNOR SHOULD LET
VOTERS OF CITY DECIDE
Fate of Mayor Walker

JAMES J. WALKER is mayor of New York City. He is either a satisfactory mayor to the people of New York City or he is not.
In a year the mayoralty election will be held and this question can be, and in the ordinary course of events will be, decided by the people of New York City.

Mayor Walker will either be renominated and re-elected or he will be rejected by the voters in the exercise of their franchise at the primaries or at the election.

The people of New York City favor home rule, and feel that they themselves are capable of deciding issues of a political character which immediately affect themselves, their municipality and their public representation.

THE Governor of New York State, under the constitution, has the power to remove the mayor of New York City.

But no mayor of New York City has ever been removed by any governor although there have been many Tammany mayors with the usual Tammany characteristics, and although there have been many governors—both Democratic and Republican—who had the opportunity and the excuse to remove some mayor of New York City, but did not exercise the power.

Mayor Walker has been accused of malfeasance in office.

A very long and very expensive and very ably conducted investigation has been held without having established any very conclusive case against him.

Many improprieties on the part of the New York City administration have been uncovered, but it is extremely doubtful if any criminal or illegal or even sufficiently discreditable acts have been discovered to warrant the Governor of New York State intruding into the local affairs of New York City and attempting to decide a question which the people of New York City are on the point of deciding for themselves.

Not only would this intrusion, if unjustified, be an interference with the home rule rights of the city.

BONUS BABY'S PLANE, YRUCK DEAD OF 'GAS' IN COLLISION
Washington, Aug. 9 (IN)—Barney E. Myers, 12-week-old bonus baby, died in Gallinger Municipal Hospital early today, allegedly the victim of the federal troops' gas attack on the bonus army camp at Anacostia, a week ago Thursday.
His father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. John Henry Myers, came here from Ephraim, near Reading, Pa., a coroner's investigation has been ordered to determine whether the child actually died as a result of leak gas fumes.

Show Girl Appeals Sentence to Jail
Margaret, alias Marion, Robertson, Roxbury show girl, who was arrested for drunkenness last week after an alleged suicide attempt, today appealed a sentence of a month in jail for being drunk, suspended, Baltimore, a record for a drunkenness case in Suffolk court, was continued, pending the appeal.

Mother Dying, Radio Used to Call Son
A dying mother at City Hospital called for her son on today, while him in Maine. The young man is Fredrick Jacobson of 136 C. St., South Boston, who left yesterday for Yarmouth, Me., to visit a family named Johnson.

His mother, Mrs. Olga Jacobson, was in good health when he left home, but during the night was taken seriously ill.

LIBBY TRIAL
WATS FOR STORK

Reynolds Girl Widow Returns to Ohio Home Under $25,000 Bail
By DAVID F. SENTER
International News Service Staff

Winston-Salem, N. C., Aug. 9 (INS)—Libby Holman Reynolds, widow, who used to sing and songs on Broadway, is no longer a hunted creature.

The widow of Zachary Smith
Reynolds, Carolina mill-mill playboy, was bound today for her childhood home in Cincinnati, after answering in the charge of murdering her husband and legally gaining freedom until the time of trial.

The next term of court here is set for Oct. 3, when the case will be called.

It is believed, however, the defendant will wait until after Libby's trial is over before demanding that she undergo the ordeal of a trial.

In an attempt a courtroom scene as ever was enacted in American legal lore, the diminutive Broadway beauty was released in $25,000 bail on a habeas corpus writ.

The hearing took place in the hamlet of Wentworth, where a good tobacco crop is about the most exciting event that ever occurs.

Libby Weeps While Hearing Goes On
It is an agricultural town in the foothills of the Blue Ridge mountains and has a population of 300 persons. The population crowded around the black-shrouded figure that was Libby on her arrival and crowded into the courtroom.

There were speeches, intense speeches, by lawyers, there were messenger boys running with pieces of paper that reporters scribbled on. There was the tinkle of telegraph instruments outside in the church-like silence as Superior Court Judge A. M. Black led the black-clothed, black-robed girl from gay Broadway to the bench, giving her his judicial chair in signing the habeas corpus writ. She was under formal arrest less than an hour.

There were talkie news reel trucks to record the speech of justice.

Ely Files Papers for Re-election
DeWitt C. DeWolf, secretary to Gov. Ely, filed nomination papers for re-election to the governor's office with Sec. Cook this afternoon.

The papers carried 2500 signatures, 1500 more than the required number.

NO KIDNAPING YARN

SOPHIE MACIEJEWSKI
Anne Maciejewski has returned. You see her as she carried her basket into the home of her parents in Salem, a state-wide search was under way. Reports of white slave gangs and kidnapping, built up from the fear of the girl's mother, Mrs. Stacia Maciejewski, were eliminated when the girl told of going into an automobile camp to care for two children of a New Jersey family. CHIEF TO SPEAK HERE FRIDAY IN U. S. TOUR

Fight for Cash Turns into Drive to Get Vets Jobs, Says Advance Agent

Commander Walter W. Waters of the bonus army is attempting to establish State headquarters in Boston for bonus veterans in Massachusetts. This was revealed by Earl F. Goodwin, Waters' advance agent who is in Boston today to arrange a public meeting on the Common Friday, which Waters will address. Goodwin, who served in France in the bonus army with the old 2nd New York regiment, said the movement had gone beyond the bonus payment stage and was now interested in obtaining employment for the bonus veterans.

Waters is now in New York awaiting word from Goodwin.

Bonus Army Continues Fight in State Camps

Washington, Aug. 9 (U.S.)—The bonus army, scattered to every corner of the country, was marching today over separate ways to the same goal—the cash bonus when Congress meets in December.

STATE CAMPS SOUGHT

Commander Walter W. Waters, before leaving for New York tonight, is being a nationwide tour in behalf of the B. E. F.

The B. E. F. has been broken up into state sections, but I can't emphasize too strongly that the bonus army has not gone in pieces. We have just begun to fight. We have learned by experience and we expect to win the next round.

Waters' present objective is to establish state headquarters for the veterans and their families pending the convening of Congress. He has had property offered for this purpose in virtually every state in the Union, he said.

The bonus leader refused to reveal the location of these offices until after he has inspected them and received the approval of state authorities to establish the camps. He wishes to avoid another turn-down such as he met in Maryland.

TO ATTACK WAR ON VETS

There are now 100,000 veterans quartered temporarily in Chicago awaiting word to proceed to the camps. The Texas and Ohio camps are in the line of the bonus army, which they expect to pitch a permanent camp.

Waters will open his speaking tour with an engagement this week in Boston, where he will tell the story of what he termed the "most unjust treatment of the bonus men" in Washington by federal troops.

LIBBY TURNS TO PARENTS IN HOUR OF TROUBLE

ALBERT HOLMAN
Albert Holman, father of Libby, and an outstanding attorney himself in Cincinnati, who is in Winston-Salem to supervise his daughter's defense on a charge of slaying her husband, Smith Reynolds. After obtaining Libby's release on bail he posted the $25,000 bond required by the court at her arraignment.

FALLING FLOOR INJURES TWO

When the floor of a building being demolished at Merriman and Chatham sts. collapsed last night, two workmen dropped from the fourth to the third floor and were killed beneath a pile of debris.

Both are in serious condition in Stoughton Relief Hospital. Daniel W. McLean, 28, of Lewis St. Everett, suffered a fractured leg and multiple cuts and lacerations. John Abbott, 20, of Suffolk St. Cambridge, suffered internal injuries and numerous cuts and bruises.

ENTIRE CHINESE CABINET QUILTS

Peking, Aug. 9 (U.S.)—The Government of China was thrown into turmoil today by the resignation of the entire cabinet headed by Premier Wang Ching-wei.

Marshal Chang Hsueh-Liang, former war lord of Manchuria and during the last year commander of the Peiping and North China area, also resigned, leaving former President Chiang Kai-shek virtual dictator.

T. Y. Seng, finance minister, was the first to submit his resignation after Wang Ching-wei and Chang Hsueh-Liang quit their posts. The remaining nine cabinet officers immediately followed suit, including the president of the executive Yuan.

The resignations left the country with no executive body, and the populace turned to Gen. Chiang Kai-shek, China's former military leader, to lead the country out of chaos.

GUILTY LOSES PERFECT LOVE

Chester, 1932, Aug. 9 (U.S.)—Discord has broken up the happy home of Stacia Guilty and Yvonne Pritikin. Friends of the couple revealed today that the girl has left.

"What is the use of being a perfect love if you lose your own wife thereby?"

The romance of the actor and his actress wife was long renowned as one of the most steadfast of the Parisian theatrical world—as mine as that of Maurice Chevalier and Yvonne Vialle, when went on the rocks a few weeks ago.

Guilty won his title of "The Perfect Lover" through his performance in "Camille" and other plays on the Paris and New York stage. He not only played the role of lover opposite his wife, but wrote the plays which they acted together.

The present crisis, International News Service learned, is the second love tragedy of Mile. Pritikin's life. Her first love was Georges Guynemer, French aviator who crashed in Germany, and whose exploits were so notable that Guilty honored his body after he was killed in 1917.

LIBBY'S PHYSICIANS WILL PRODUCE WRITTEN CERTIFICATES OF THE VOWS' CONDITION—BOTH AS TO HER EXPECTATION OF MOTHERHOOD AND AS TO HER NERVOUS UNCTION...

BETTY GOW AT SCOTTISH HOME

Plymouth, Eng., Aug. 9 (AP)—Miss Betty Gow, Scottish nurse in the home of Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, landed here today for a visit to her home in Scotland.

She was met by her mother and a group of friends from Glasgow, and they planned to motor there from here.

Miss Gow refused to talk except to say that she intends to return to her place in the Lindbergh household in October.

The greeting between Miss Gow and her mother, whose name is now Mrs. Taylor, was very affecting.

GARRO STAGES VANISHING ACT

Stockholm, Aug. 9 (U.S.)—Reacting to her role of mystery and elusiveness after an unexpected demonstration of amiability on her arrival at Gothenburg yesterday, Garro disappeared into thin air today.

The entire country eager to see and honor her on her first visit to Sweden, was disappointed when she failed to appear at the reception of Hollywood lookers for her in vain. There was not a trace of the actress after she left a small hotel yesterday near Gothenburg where she landed from the ship.

Garro had been in the city for a few hours before she was spotted by her mother, brother and sister-in-law in a happy reunion at the hotel, after which the whole family left in an automobile.

The car, instead of going in a northerly direction toward Varmland, where she was expected to visit, headed southeast.

Those closest to the star believed Miss Garro was staying at a hotel in the industrial town of Jönköping, on the southern shore of Lake Vättern, where the late Rex Kroger's Swedish Match Company has large factory.

STAG PARTY TOO MUCH FOR HIM

George F. Sutherland of Springfield, Mass., was surprised to learn today in municipal court that he gave a stag party two tickets for a stag party which the chairman demanded his license and registration be returned.

Sutherland was arrested in Atlantic Ave. North End after he had attended the party in a automobile. Patrolman John Dickinson of the Hanover St. station notified he found Sutherland in his machine parked in a public house, a motorless freight car in Atlantic Ave.

"And when I asked him for his license and registration he handed me two tickets to a stag party," testified Dickinson.

"That's the first I knew of that," testified Dickinson.

When the court was informed Sutherland was father of six children, probation was ordered on the charge of drunken driving.

RECORD FLIGHT STARTED THE ROMANCE

Miami, Fla., Aug. 9 (U.S.)—A romance that began in the clouds and followed a path of adventure around the world was recounted by Capt. William N. Lancaster as he took the stand in his own defense on a charge of murder.

The British flier and wartime hero was called in a surprise move by Chief Defense Counsel James M. Carson, opening his fight to save Lancaster from the electric chair.

He is charged with slaying Helen Clarke, young writer and fiancée of Mrs. Jesse H. Keith-Miller, the Australian aviator, who testified she "would die for him."

MEET IN LONDON

Capt. Lancaster, 31, and a British citizen, said he met Mrs. Keith-Miller at a dinner in London in 1927, and told her of his plans for a flight to Australia. She suggested that she accompany him, putting up half the money.

The diminutive "Chubbie," now one of the foremost women pilots in the world, had never been on an airplane before the test flight, a half hour before she and Capt. Lancaster took off on their flight to Australia, he testified.

It was during this record-setting long-distance flight that the love born within drew the paths of the flying couple together for the next five years, the tall Southerland testified.

LOVE ENDED

He was asked: "What were your relations when you left London?"

"Friendly and businesslike," "Did they become intimate any time between London and Singapore on the flight?"

"On an occasion."

Earlier in the day Mrs. Keith-Miller, recalled to the witness stand the English Channel today, after the flight.

"Do you love Capt. Lancaster?" she asked.

"No."

"Did you ever?"

"Yes."

"Until what time?"

"Until two years ago. I am still intensely fond of him."

GIRL FAILS IN CHANNEL SWIM

London, Eng., Aug. 9 (U.S.)—Miss Milly Copplestone of New Zealand failed in an unaided attempt to swim the English Channel today, according to word received from Cape Gris-Nez, France.

Swimming from Cape Gris-Nez and crossing her route to Dover, Miss Copplestone was forced to abandon the attempt at 4:40 a. m. after having swum for the water four hours and 30 minutes.

A prominent society girl and sportswoman, Miss Copplestone and an English friend recently became the first two women to cross the channel on a surf board. They made the trip on 4 days.

There had been no preliminary announcement of her plans, and word of the event came as a complete surprise here.

No one has swum across the channel since September, 1925, when Isak Holm, an Egyptian, registered the route. Miss Copplestone attempted. Previous to that six women and five men accomplished the feat within two years.

STUDENT CREW STILL MISSING

Paris, Aug. 9 (AP)—Along the coasts of France and England a search was kept today for New Princeton University students who were last seen in a launch from Gloucester, Mass., in a launch, a Wilmington, Del., Jr. of Rye, N. Y., who departed yesterday. That the young students were behind enemy lines in the previous day for London. He said the students had been told to last them two more weeks.

Among the searchers were William L. Crue and William Dwyer, of New York, Stansfield Backson of Detroit, and a search party from Boston and Robert Keadie of Baltimore. Pell said they were good yachtsmen, but not expert navigators.

Woman Flier Seeks Endurance Record

HOTEL MEN FOR ROOSEVELT

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor will address the 26th general convention of the Hotel and Restaurant Employers and Beverage Dispensers International Alliance tomorrow at the Hotel Bradford, Edward Fiere, general president of the alliance announced.

An endorsement of Governor Roosevelt was contained in the report of President Fiere, which was unanimously accepted without debate. While neither the name of the candidate or the political party was mentioned in the report, there could be no question as to its meaning.

Mayor Curley welcomed the 225 delegates from all parts of the United States and Canada at the opening session.

Immediate modification of the Volstead act, with the ultimate repeal of the 18th Amendment, was the general theme of the other speakers.

Jail Prepared for 300 Doukhobors

Vancouver, B. C., Aug. 8.—Arrangements are being made to receive some 200 Doukhobors, men and women, held at Okauchia and Nelson jails, under sentence of three years' imprisonment for participating in nude parades. They are to serve their terms at Port Leland, newly created penal colony near Sidney, Vancouver Island.

HOOVER POWER PLAN ASSAILED

Williamstown, Aug. 9 (US).—The program for the development of the St. Lawrence waterway and hydro-electric project to which President Hoover is committed was criticized today at the Institute of Politics.

Peter Ten Eyck, president of the New York Waterways Association, pointed out that the St. Lawrence is ice free only seven months of the year, and declared that the government's estimate of $54,000,000 for the cost of the project is misleading. The cost will more likely exceed a billion and a third, he declared, pointing out that a rise in prices may be expected before 1941—the date set for completion—and that Canada may demand an increased channel depth.

Delos M. Cosgrove, vice-chairman of the power authority of the State of New York, speaking with the sanction of Governor Roosevelt, declared that unless the power concessions were constructed at a much lower outlay, high rates will drive American industry to Canada.

Good Swimmer Ties Hands to Succeed in Drowning Self

Chicago, Aug. 9 (US).—Because he swam so well he feared he would not drown when he jumped into the Chicago river to commit suicide, Julius Jacobson, 38, unemployed, tied his hands behind his back.

Authorities thought they were confronted with a murder mystery when his body was found with the hands bound.

The man's father, however, said Jacobson had been practicing tying his hands for weeks. He was so successful he had to have his father's help in loosening the knots.

A few days later he disappeared.

Chevaliers to Make Up After Divorce

Chicago, Aug. 9 (US).—Maurice Chevalier and his wife Yvonne Vallee are going to make up—but not until after they are divorced. They are living apart.

Chevalier in his villa at La Bocca, just outside Cannes, and Yvonne with her family in Paris. After the decree is issued in September they expect to remain "quite happy with each other."

4 BOY BANDITS CAUGHT ON TIP

Methuen, Aug. 9.—Due to a neighbor's alertness near the scene of a holdup on Current Hill rd., when Miss Beatrice Finnegan and Joseph Mack were held up in their auto, police have arrested four youths.

The woman neighbor telephoned police she caught the registration numbers of the machine leaving the scene. Police traced the car to the home of one of the defendants, and say the four have confessed.

They gave their names as John Charles, 20; George LeRoy Kiffin, 18; and Ernest Honie, 18, all of Lawrence, and Jeremiah G'Brien, 30, of Malone, N. Y. They were all charged with attempted robbery while armed.

Bolivia Requested to Lay Down Arms

Washington, Aug. 9.—Bolivia has been called upon by representatives of the United States and other nations to lay down her arms in the Chaco boundary dispute with Paraguay by daybreak Wednesday.

THIEF SPENDS $695,000 LOOT

New York, Aug. 8.—George D. Poulos for thirteen years was a trusted watchdog of the treasury for J. S. Bachs & Company, a banking and brokerage firm which entrusted to him command of a $1,000,000 cash account.

Broken in spirit and repentant, Poulos was revealed in court today as an embezzler who during his thirteen years' stewardship stole $695,000 and spent almost all of it on Broadway via the provincial route—wine, women and song.

Poulos' confession revealed that while he was known by day to Wall Street as a careful, trustworthy accountant, he was known at night on Broadway as a prince of spenders.

He spent considerable time in night clubs, handing $100 to $1000 tips to girls who sang Irish ash songs to him. The more they made him cry, the higher he tipped.

The losses are all borne by bonding companies.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT FOR THRIFTY WOMEN!

NOW OPEN!

Our New Home
of 6 Floors!

411 Washington St. is SCOTT Furriers New Home!

A Prophecy Fulfilled!

IN NOVEMBER, 1930, while others talked "Pessimism" and cried "Hysteria," Scott Furriers published an open letter to President Hoover, Governor Allen and Mayor Curley in which we affirmed our faith in the present and future of the United States. We believed then, as we believe now, that if leaders in industry, finance and labor, rolled up their sleeves, went to work and forgot the false prosperity we had, the return to normalcy and true prosperity would be hastened.

IN AUGUST, 1932, in spite of economic conditions, Scott Furriers re-affirms its faith in our glorious United States of America. We have moved to our new building at 411 Washington Street, where we occupy six floors, enabling us to better serve the women of New England. Our opening of two new stores in Hartford, Conn., last week was a great success. We expended thousands of dollars in the newest improvements and conveniences, helping the unemployment situation.

THE ABOVE new stores, together with our building of seven floors in Providence, R. I., make us by far not only the largest fur establishment in New England, but one of the largest in the United States!

Transfer of 12 men, including two captains, four lieutenants, two sergeants and four patrolmen, was ordered by Police Commissioner Hultman in announcing the personnel of the new public aid investigation bureau to be opened today on the seventh floor at police headquarters.

Capt. Stephen J. Flaherty of the detective bureau becomes chief assistant to Deputy Superintendent Thomas F. Goode. Capt. William Lewis takes Flaherty's place in the detective bureau.

Lieut. James H. Hinchey of the East Dedham station, James F. Daley of the Jamaica Plain station, Stephen J. Gills and Bernard J. Graham of the detective bureau, all go to the new investigation bureau.

SOVIET BURNS POLISH TOWNS

Warsaw, Poland, Aug. 9 (UPI)—Soviet troops today began burning down villages for a stretch of 20 kilometers along the Polish and Rumanian frontiers to prevent Soviet peasants from fleeing Russia.

Hundreds of these peasants were reported to have escaped into Poland and Rumania last week despite an extremely strong Soviet military guard and the use of anti-aircraft equipment to barbed wire charged with electricity.

The disaster here, the border in this section, has long been the scene of brutal slayings of peasants by the Soviet guard, and thousands have been killed during the past year for attempting to flee into Rumania without permits.

Waltham's Abandoned Baby Becomes One of 7000 Wards

Waltham's abandoned baby, he left of his own family by a tragedy police have failed to fathom, today joined the state's family of 7000 wards.

The 11-month-old boy left in a parked car outside a Waltham theater Thursday night, was turned over to state welfare officials by the Waltham Baby Hospital yesterday. Today he was "boarded out."

Officials believe a poverty-stricken mother and father abandoned the baby to the state's care rather than have him suffer privation.

Under the law the founding holds a more pathetic place than the orphan in the ranks of state wards for until it is proved that the parents of an abandoned baby are dead, it may not be legally adopted. And few men and women who will take a child into a home will do so without legal adoption, for they run the risk of becoming attached to

BUYERS SURE OF UPTURN

Chicago, Aug. 9 (UPI)—Buyers and merchandise men representing 200 stores in 12 states are in Chicago today expressing confidence that the turn in business has arrived.

They are here to attend the annual convention of the Interstate Merchants Council which opened last night with a fashion show at the Hotel Sherman.

Contrasting with their feeling of optimism at last year's convention, the buyers came to Chicago announcing that they were ready to buy and replenish their depleted stocks.

Paul W. Kunning, trade promotion director for the Chicago Association of Commerce, said that between 6000 and 7000 buyers were registered at the meeting here.

Parson's Love Poems Read in Probe of Wife's Murder

Muskogee, Okla., Aug. 9 (AP)—A grand jury investigating an alleged poison death spends part of its working time reading verse.

But the jurors are not dwelling on the job for Phil K. Oldham, county attorney, says the poems were written by the Rev. S. A. Berrie, 32, to the 19-year-old girl he married last May, two months after the sudden death of his first wife.

Berrie, who is said for investigation, was questioned for several hours last night. More evidence was to be submitted today to the grand jury.

Among witnesses was Berrie's girl wife, Ida Bess Berrie, former Sunday school teacher in his church, who left after only 30 minutes in the courtroom, dry-eyed and composed.

To her, whom County Atty. Oldham said was a "victim of circumstances," officers said Berrie had admitted he made love before the death of Mrs. Berrie.

BODIES BLOCK STRIKE TRUCKS

New York, Aug. 9 (UPI)—Mahatma Gandhi's "passive resistance" policy which for a time paralyzed British administration in India was introduced into American labor troubles here today, when striking garment workers lay down in the street in front of trucks transporting clothing to non-union shops.

More than 3000 members of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America participated in the demonstration and 15,000 are expected to join the strike today.

When strikers lay down in front of a truck the driver turned and went back to his garage. The method will be extended throughout the garment district today, the union president announced.

ROOSEVELT OUT TO RAID PRIZE C. O. P. PLUMS

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 9 (U.S.)—Gov. Roosevelt got a first-hand picture of the progress of his presidential campaign today from James A. Farley, chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

The governor is creating a national organization, with branches in every state and sufficient funds to finance the war on the Republicans.

Roosevelt has given Farley and his associates a free hand. The nominee, however, has his own views about his part in the campaign and the issues on which he will seek the presidency. Roosevelt has insisted on reserving the final decision on these matters for himself.

EYES G. O. P. TERRITORY

The governor turned his eyes westward to appraise his chances of cutting deep into Republican territory.

He first directed his attention to Ohio, where the political tide and current are generally assumed to correspond pretty closely to those of the neighboring state of Illinois and Indiana. These states are a prize capture.

Roosevelt was informed by Senator Robert Bulkley of Ohio, that the candidacy is winning support at a fast clip, with excellent prospects of victory. They discussed the issues which Roosevelt will take up in his forthcoming speech at Columbus, Aug. 20. Roosevelt said: "We talked over the situation and Senator Bulkley was confident that his state will go into the Democratic column in November."

FARM ISSUES STUDIED

The farm issues, with which the nominee will deal extensively when he takes the stump, were discussed by Roosevelt with a group of 10 leaders, representing some of the leading co-operative organizations of the country.

They told Roosevelt they favored the continued existence of the Federal Farm Board with modified functions. John D. Miller, co-president of the National Co-operative League of New York, spokesman, said the board must ease its efforts to stabilize the markets by speculation.

DIVORCE STORY CALLED FALSE

Paris, Aug. 9 (AP)—Mrs. Arturo Perilla Ramon, the former Millington, Regent, author, through her husband today a flat statement that she had initiated no divorce proceedings against him.

"Both Mrs. Ramon and myself," he said, "catholically deny the denial of reports we were about to be divorced. There is nothing of the kind."

Senator Ramon, Argentine multimillionaire whom the American heiress married after her divorce from Count Saint Von Hohenhausen, was reached at the home of his wife's mother, where Mrs. Ramon also is staying.

"Do you think I would be staying here if the divorce reports were true?" he asked. "Mrs. Ramon is leaving for Cannes tomorrow with my family."

FINAL TRIBUTE PAID CONWAY

A solemn mass of requiem was sung at the Immaculate Conception Church today for George Dennis Conway of Worcester, who died Saturday afternoon after a month's illness.

For the past 14 years the deceased has been employed in the composing room of the Boston Evening American and the Boston Sunday Advertiser.

Services today were conducted by Rev. Fr. William Conway, S. J., of Boston College, the brother of the deceased, and were attended by friends and relatives including Supt. of Police Crowley, Mr. Conway was survived by his wife, his brother and three sisters, Miss Julia G. and Nora A. Conway of Perkins at Jamaica Plain, and Mrs. George H. Hersey of Charlestown.

DOWIE'S WIDOW FACES EVICTION

Waukegan, Ill., Aug. 9 (AP)—The shadow of an eviction proceeding hung today over Shiloh House, a public home of the city of Chicago, owned by the late Dr. John Alexander Dowie, founder of the Christian Apostolic Church of Zion.

Circuit Judge Ralph J. Daly gave the Rev. A. J. Gladstone Dowie, the son, until next Monday to show cause why he should not make payments on a mortgage on Shiloh House in nearby Zion City, or be evicted.

Wilbur Glenn Voliva, who believes the estate is flat, came into complete control of the religious colony at Zion City in 1931.

For 20 years Mrs. Dowie, the 77-year-old widow of the colony's founder, remained away from Zion City, Shiloh House, which was built by her husband, was sold in the meanwhile, but it was purchased a few years ago by her son, and for two years past he and his mother have occupied the place.

Fair Weather Ahead Today and Tomorrow

No fogging—it's going to be fair, not only all day but tonight and tomorrow as well, even if the weather man did slip slightly yesterday on a similar prediction.

The temperature stood at 72 at 9 a. m. today, with small chance of it rising sufficient for it to equal the record of 82 degrees for this date established in 1912. Yesterday's minimum temperature, 58, was 32, just before the rainfall, which measured 42 of an inch.

Miss Berkman in Protest at Guard

Protest against her police guard today Central New England Senator Edmund Ruland, was voiced today by Edith Berkman, Communist strike leader, who faces deportation when she recovers from illness. In a statement through the International Labor Defense, Miss Berkman charged police with mistreating other patients as well as herself by maintaining a night guard.

Dying Slayer Weds Ex-Wife to Aid Her

Denver, Aug. 9 (AP)—William C. Patton's life sentence for murder in 1926 was not enough, it is said, to deter him from marrying the woman he divorced in 1922 following his conviction so that she could collect his war risk insurance as soon as the ravages of tuberculosis take him from the hands of justice—a matter of a few weeks.

POPE DECREES CONFIRMATION AGE 7 YEARS

Vatican City, Aug. 9 (AP)—The Congregation of Sacraments of the Catholic Church issued a decree today providing that confirmation must precede first holy communion. Monsignor Arturo Mazzone, undersecretary of the congregation, told the Associated Press today.

The decree will be effective in the United States.

Confirming what was reported yesterday, Monsignor Mazzone said: "This decree is designed to make the order of these sacraments uniform throughout the world. In the major portion of Italy the custom always has been to administer confirmation before first communion. Naples, however, has a custom of administering confirmation just before matrimony."

"In the United States, the chief difficulty heretofore has been the large size of the dioceses, which has prevented the bishop from getting around frequently to the parishes to administer confirmation."

The decree now states that confirmation must be given as soon as the child reaches the age of seven; that is, about seven or eight and one-half years. There the first communion will be discontinued gradually.

He said the decree would be published in a few days in the Acta Apostolicae Sedis, the acts of the Holy See.

COLLEGE RUM KINGS HIDE IN FALL RIVER

By MASKED REPORTER
(Copyright, 1932, for the Boston Evening American.)

New Bedford, Aug. 9—If you should drop around this way looking for the Cape Cod branch of the great New York rum syndicate and receive the proper directions you'd ultimately find yourself in a rather modest rooming house in Fall River.

But if you looked over the well-thumbed register you'd be as much in the dark as though you never found the place for, I regret to report, the register is not as truthful as those books are expected, according to law.

In fact, you'd be mystified, to say the least, by the monickers inscribed therein. And, upon further study, you'd probably chuckle a bit at Masked Reporter the ludicrous names.

First, I must remind you that yesterday I promised to give you the names, so far as certain laws permit, of the lads that are handling the Cape Cod branch of "Big Bills" New York Syndicate, the powerful organization that is running wild on the Cape while prohibition agents stand by with apparent helplessness.

If I were to use the names that appear in the register above mentioned I would write such laughable aliases as "Joseph Apples," "John Lemon," "Cedric Sauerkraut," "Martin Turnip," and several other kinds of fruit and vegetables.

But "the Apples" may be late or his brother Jimmie, both of whom are honest-to-goodness graduates of Harvard University. And I am informed, a couple of honest students when they received their sheepskins.

Yes, dear readers, rum-running makes strange bed-fellows, and I venture to say there is probably many a youth stepping out with a college diploma in these days of unemployment who might cast an envious eye on the fortune if not the fame that has come to Jimmie and his brother Nate.

ENGINES LEASED

ENGINES LEASED

Closely allied with the two Harvard boys in the work of smuggling rum and putting the hooks in the independent operators are "fingers," whose duty it is to fix

Then there is Jake, a sort of a man of all jobs, who turns a hand occasionally to help Nate, who has charge of all the engines. In fact Nate is the recognized engine man of the entire Cape.

I mean that there is hardly an engine in any of the New Yorkers' run-runners that Nate doesn't own. He installs his own Liberty engines, three or four to the boat, and collects royalties in the form of a cut-up of the liquor profits of that particular boat.

He, the former immigration officer who was fired from the border patrol, Harry the former coast guardman, who was dishonorably discharged at Norfolk, Felix, another ex-coast guardman who was hastened out of the service at North Carolina, still another former coast guardman named Charlie who is reported to know something about the drowning of one Emberson, Providence Jake, Bridgeport Danny and Bridgeport Louis, Tom, one-time owner of the "Porpoise" and "Idle Hour," and several others.

A motley crew, my friends, but a crew that has operated with amazing success on the lonely sands of Warren Point, Sakonnet, Little Compton, Westport and a dozen other little inlets that afford ideal "drops" for contraband.

ROOSEVELT AND HOOVER TOLD THEY'LL WIN

By the Associated Press
Everybody seems happy.

That summarizes today's political resume as it was presented to the presidential candidates of the two major parties.

In Washington, President Hoover worked away at his acceptance speech, told by sundry followers that in November he will carry Wisconsin, Minnesota, New York, Massachusetts and Iowa, Missouri and other farm belt states.

In Albany, Governor Roosevelt today made for a public hearing Thursday of charges against Mayor James J. Walker, having been advised that he will carry Ohio, Idaho, Texas, numerous western states, and that nine-tenths of the people think he will be the next President.

HOOVER SADDENED

The optimistic reports were taken to Hoover by Senator Moses of New Hampshire, Representative William E. Hull of Illinois, Cleveland Newton, former Missouri representative, and others. The President's feelings, though, were tempered by sadness and shock at the sudden death last night of his friend and adviser, James Francis Burke, general counsel of the Republican national committee.

Roosevelt got his favorable news in a round of conferences, at which he talked with party leaders from score of states. Among the bearers of good tidings were Senator Bulkley and W. A. Julian, Democratic national committeeman, both from Ohio; Senator Cohen of Georgia; T. A. Walters, Idaho State chairman; Jed Adams, Texas national committeeman; George E. Starr, chairman of the Washington State committee.

COOLIDGE NOT TO GO

Some other things round out the picture. Senator Dickinson (R.), Iowa, telegraphed Roosevelt that his decision to hold the Walker hearing the day Hoover accepts the Republican nomination is an "evident lack of sportsmanship."

Calvin Coolidge—because traveling aggravates his hay fever—would not take part in the notification ceremonies. And Chairman Everett Sanders of the Republican national committee said in Chicago that Coolidge would work for Hoover, although what part the former Presi-

In Washington, Representative Rayburn of Texas, contact man between Speaker Garner and the Democratic headquarters, predicted the vice-presidential candidate would begin his campaign Sept. 15 after talking with Roosevelt on

100,000 Claimed for Man Who Died Poor

Chicago, Aug. 9 (AP)—Tommy Malle, armistice composer of lyrics for popular songs, saved last week by friends from a pauper's grave, has now revealed as possible possessor an uncollected estate of $100,000. Malle bequeathed his estate to William Herring. An attorney for Herring, offering the will for probate, told the court song publishing companies owed Malle $100,000 in royalties.

Police Hot Seat Too Hot, So Prisoner Puts Fire Out

Hammond, Ind., Aug. 9 (AP)—The police made Patrick Hawbrook hot under the collar after they arrested him on a charge of "public intoxication."

He was in the patrol wagon when he remarked to the driver, Patrolman Rickman, that it was surely a hot day. Rickman said nothing, but Hawbrook peeled off his coat because it seemed to be getting hotter all the time.

By TED SMITH

Los Angeles, Aug. 9 (INS)—Volatile South-American temperament today had punctured the dignity of the Olympic games and led to the disqualification from further competition of the Brazilian water polo team.

A score of police reserves were needed to quell the incident in the swimming stadium that occurred when the Brazilian team, defeated by Germany 3 to 2, refused to accept Referee Adolphe Komjadi of Hungary in angry protest that they maintained were "unjust decisions."

As result the International Federation of Naval Athletes—the supreme governing body of swimming—met in hurried executive session and banned the Brazilians from further competition in water polo.

Three players in particular were accused of the near-assault on Referee Komjadi. They were Capt. C. Branco, goal keeper; Sera, and D. Silva. Komjadi called frequent fouls on the Brazilian team and several times sent South American players to the side lines for brief intervals. The knot of Brazilian athletes that clustered about him at the end of the game alarmed the thickest Budapest athletic official and some high-pitched Latin expletives gave way to shoves and pushes and a few lightning blows.

U. S. SWELLS TOTAL

The tracks at the swimming stadium overshadowed a day of Olympic competition that saw the United States swell its unofficial point total to 42½, more than three times the Italian score of 12½. Sweden continued third with 12½, followed by Finland, 11½. France, 11½; Germany, 10½; England, 8½; Canada, 6½ and Japan, 5½.

Two new Olympic champions were crowned. They were: 100-Meter Freestyle Swimming, American swimmer, Brian Macpherson, 1:05.3 (New Olympic record). Men's 100-Meter Freestyle Swimming, "Mickey" Riley, 1:13.18 points.

NURMI CASE REOPENED

Finland decided to reopen the question of the disqualification from the games of the mighty Paavo Nurmi, peer of all runners, during argument over an amendment to the Federation bylaws which would give the council, a body of seven members, complete power over the amateur track and field athletes of all nations.

The amendment was approved 12 to 12 but in case was the vote that the decision was left to a commission for further study. That Nurmi still stands as suspended by the I. A. A. F. and his status is indeterminate, pending further professional or amateur.

In boxing American influence prevailed when the International Boxing Association ruled that for the first time in the history of the Olympic games the referee will be in the ring with the fighters.

concession to modesty, all contestants were required to wear shirts.

NEW MANAGERS BETTER 'N' OLD? SO FIGURES SAY

Did President Will Veech of the Cubs make a smart move when he fired Rogers Hornsby and appointed Charlie Grimm manager of the club down in Philadelphia last week?

And how wise was Charlie Stoneham's "blatant" move when he accepted the resignation of John McGraw and named Bill Terry in the Little League's stand?

And did it profit Bob Quinn of the Red Sox to let John Doherty hand the managerial reins over to Harry McManis?

In every case the data reply is in the affirmative. Will that be the story until the season closes?

Find out by following the records which will be published on these pages daily. Here's how the work of the old and new players of the Cubs, Giants and Red Sox compare up to the present:

RED SOX
 1—Babe Ruth, 100 runs, 100 hits, 100 RBI.
 2—Babe Ruth, 100 runs, 100 hits, 100 RBI.
 3—Babe Ruth, 100 runs, 100 hits, 100 RBI.
 4—Babe Ruth, 100 runs, 100 hits, 100 RBI.
 5—Babe Ruth, 100 runs, 100 hits, 100 RBI.

CANADA TRADE PLAN AIMED AT U. S. FAILS

By M. GRANT O'LEARY Noted Canadian Journalist and Political Analyst

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 9.—Britain's delegation to the imperial trade conference in London, which opened today, is expected to make a program of preferential tariff-making which was generally regarded as a serious menace to America's export business.

At the same time two Irish Free State delegates picked their bags for Dublin, leaving an impression that they expected nothing from England, because of the specter of a rift war between the two countries.

WIDER SCOPE ASKED
Britain's delegation to the empire economic conference today informed Premier Bennett his offer of preferences for British manufacturers in Canada's market was not sufficient to attract them.

As a result, the conference is practically where it was when it opened three weeks ago. Premier Bennett is believed to be preparing a revised proposal.

The British were particularly critical of what Canada offered as concessions on textiles and iron and steel. They held that their only effect would be to injure United States trade with Canada without any worthwhile benefit for British trade with Canada.

NO FAILURE SEEN
While this French reaction was followed by a new wave of pessimism as to the fate of the conference, there is no tendency to admit the conference may fail.

It is pretty generally expected that the original idea of using the empire into a great economic unit cannot now be achieved.

Bennett's new offer will be awaited with keen interest. He is determined to make the conference a success and may be able to go much farther than he has.

But it is not possible to see what the conference will do for Canada's interests.

Two Arrested on Abduction Charge
Washington, Aug. 9.—Justice Department agents have made their first arrest under the new law governing the federal government authority to deal with the crime of abduction.

Officers of the bureau of investigation held Raymond W. Va. on charges of conspiring with two others to violate that law by kidnapping George N. Jones, an R. K. Roberton of Louisville, Ky.

Bureau officials said Plaster had made a full confession.

Two Roxbury Youths Arrested in Robbery
Believed to be the "boy bandits" who robbed Harry Swartz, Roxbury real estate dealer, of $100 Sunday, two youths were held as suspicious persons in connection with the holdup at Dudley station last night.

The youths gave their names as Harold P. Fennell, 22, of Concord, and Leo Hagan, 19, of Trumbull, both of Roxbury.

Love Notes of 1890 Save Man From Pauper's Burial

Peabody, Aug. 9.—The body of John J. McCarthy, 41, a West Peabody farm hand who died July 29, was sent to a brother and a sister in Potsdam, N. Y., after it had been identified by poetic love letters written in 1890, which failed to win the hand of the girl, and caused him to become a pauper until his death.

The body was about to be buried to Potter's Field, when Chief of Police Edward F. Pierce (read a check found among the dead man's effects) and a trunk stored in Boston found the letters and a diploma that John J. McCarthy had graduated from a Poughkeepsie, N. Y., business college in 1891.

Members of the dead man's family located by Potsdam authorities, said that he had not been heard from since he left home in 1890, brokenhearted at finding his love was rejected. Salem police say.

Kai-Shek Is Again Dictator of China
London, Aug. 9 (U.S.)—The London Daily Telegraph, in a dispatch today from Nanking, states that Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek, former president of the Republic of China, following the resignation of Gen. Wang Ching-wei and Marshal Chang Hsueh-liang from the supreme military council.

North End Man Held After Leaving Prison
After serving a sentence of from six to eight years in State prison at Charlestown for attempted murder Vincent Rossi, alias Vincent C. Caldo of the North End was arrested yesterday by U. S. Deputy Marshal William Hubbard as he was leaving the prison gates.

He was charged with possession and passing 120 counterfeit bills. He pleaded not guilty and was held without bail.

Barkley Leading 2 to 1 in Kentucky
Louisville, Ky., Aug. 9 (U.S.)—Senator Albert W. Barkley, in extended returns from throughout the state, led in the Democratic primary count over Senator George B. Martin, Catlettsburg, by two to one.

The primary was held Saturday but the ballot count did not begin until yesterday.

STATE LEGION MALDEN RELIEF IN WET FIGHT CUT ASSAILED

Up in arms at the decision of the Malden board of public welfare to pay each applicant for aid $1.07 per week instead of giving grocery and provision orders to families, 42 retail grocers and provision dealers have joined hundreds of citizens and are to appeal to Mayor William A. Hastings to have the welfare department modify its decree.

It is asserted that these merchants will make their appeal to the mayor today or tomorrow.

They declare the $1.07 is far too small a sum and that they will secure none of the business.

Mayor Hastings' office was deluged with telephone calls from citizens who demanded that the new measure be repealed and that a special session of the City Council be called to provide needed funds to properly care for the needy.

Many demanded that trained investigators be paid and told the mayor that it was no job for firemen, policemen or social workers.

George D. Carpenter of Arlington, a member of the City Council, has filed a resolution seeking to place the State convention on record in favor of immediate payment and intends to stage a fight, to that effect. It is also said that a part of the repeal bill will be to the effect that the State convention be called to order.

Two health guardians your home can have

Vital at all times, but especially important in hot summer weather, these two safeguards can protect the freshness and purity of your foods—on which your family's health depends. A modern, certified Boston Ice Company refrigerator (it needs icing only once in every five or six days), and regular service of crystal-clear, appetizing Boston Ice. And both these health guardians fit the thrifty budget.

Ask your Boston route man where these refrigerators can be inspected, or call Kenmore 8160.

The Boston ICE Company

Taste a new thrill the pause that refreshes with food

Surprise your own appetite and delight your guests! Serve ice-cold Coca-Cola with something good to eat—like toasted cheese rolls, sandwiches or beaten biscuits with sliced ham. You taste a new thrill. It refreshes you and adds snap to your party.

Order bottled Coca-Cola from your dealer just as you order groceries. Keep it on ice and add ice when you serve it. The colder it is the better everybody likes it.

Our Women the Speediest

They Break Records at Olympics

Women run faster than ever before.

Our own Mary Carr led a quartet of star-spangled-banner girls in the 400-metre relay race at the Olympics, the clocks registering the fastest time in the history of this competition.

You can tell from the names of three of these girls—Carrow, Furth and Von Bremen—that their folks didn't come over in the Mayflower. One's ancestors may have come for liberty at the time of the Irish famine; the others may have been trained with the disciplined soldiers brought under Von Steuben. In any event we are all in the same boat now. And glad that girls of their fine type are at the oars if athletic competition when this clean rivalry among peoples is concerned.

Why did these clean, strong American girls defeat the champions of seven other nations, which means the world? Because of political emancipation and greater freedom in this country?

Perhaps not. More likely because we have gone in for more extensive health education, for physical training in the schools, dental clinics, free hospitals and the like. Our longevity rate exceeds the world today, and probably the world of all time. If our girls are not more versatile and more self-reliant as well as speedier than the cave women who eluded the beasts in the jungle, certainly the latter left us no statistics to disprove it.

A Little Helps a Lot

Fresh Air Fine for Poor Children

If you feel that you can afford it, send a little contribution to the North Bennet Street Industrial School, Boston, ere the Summer is gone.

This school has a Summer camp at Buxford. The children of the poor are taken there for Summer outings, and often the mothers and their babies are supplied with food and clothing and the opportunity for renewed health.

If it were not for this outing, Summer would be for them an unending procession of monotonous dusty days and uncomfortable hot nights in the congested tenements, with the paved streets the only playground of the children.

You ought to know that the small sum of $6 will give a boy or girl from the tenement district a week's holiday in the cool, refreshing atmosphere of Buxford Vacation Camp. The sum of $11 will send the mother and baby to the camp for a week's respite from the debilitating heat of the city with its noisome surroundings.

You might want to make your contribution in the name of your own dear mother or in the name of your children in behalf of those kids of the streets bereft of the happy surroundings which your children enjoy. Send it to Miss Alice G. Smith, North Bennet Street Industrial School, 28 North Bennet Street, Boston.

Somerville Does It

Boston and Somerville have won noteworthy distinction. They lead all the cities in the country of their respective sizes in the matter of automobile accident prevention.

The saving of life is a worthy enterprise and any time any community achieves leadership in that humanitarian field, the event ought properly to be celebrated.

Street Commissioner Houley tells us that the devices adopted by Somerville to protect the lives and limbs of its people are neither complex nor unusual.

They paint signs out there and mark the streets with safety lines that are distinguishable to the pedestrians and motorists alike. Houley says the average motorist is a normal, well-behaved person after all and will obey the signs and signals that are distinct.

If Somerville can attain such a notable record, with the great tide of Boston-North River pouring through its streets every day in the year, the same result ought to be more easy of accomplishment in the sister cities which encounter no such difficulty and congestion.

Churches and Pacifism

The First Congregational Church, beside the old cemetery at the village green in Marshfield, observes its 300th anniversary. Perhaps it is the oldest in the country still surviving.

It was established in 1638, only twelve years after the landing of the Pilgrims. Forefather White, the first white child born in New England, was a member of that church, and Daniel Webster 200 years later. The high-back pews and early fireplaces are worth seeing.

When you drive through this historic South Shore country you will note that the early churches, regardless of denominations, were erected in clusters, near each other. The old natives, with flintlock muskets, wanted to be handy to each other, in case there was attack by the Indians. In union their strength.

The village green was a training ground. There the rising generation of America were formed into militia and taught to defend themselves and their country. You heard from them at Concord and Lexington. Also at Chateau Thierry and Belleau Woods, even if they didn't all spring from the same racial stock.

With present-day tendencies of foolish pacifism, we will have only an army of fountain pens and typewriters. How the old settlers would scorn this. They knew that a country worth developing was worth fighting for. And nobody dares say they were not religious folk.

Poor Homes Breed Crime

Nineteen of the twenty-one men in the death house at Sing Sing at one time were under twenty-one years of age.

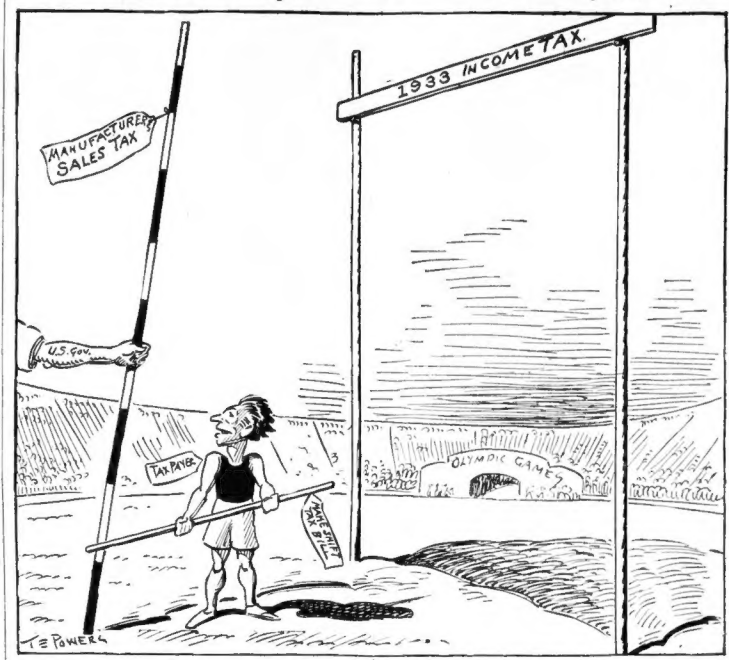

Frank Tannenbaum, the criminologist, a native of Massachusetts, says that the professional criminal usually is the product of an insufficient home.

The mother may be gone, or the father dead. Usually there is sickness, physical or mental. Frequently there is drunkenness. It may be poor moral standards, internal conflict or lack of family discipline.

Do you remember Ted's cartoon character, "Poor Yum—He Never Had a Chance"? We might think of the conditions out of which these Poor Yums came, through no fault of their own, before we pass judgment upon them.

New York Day by Day

"Small-Town" Conscious

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—New York is fast becoming amongst "small-town" conscious. It used to be everybody transplanted here began immediately to look upon any part of the country west of Jersey City as some bleak, extraneous region where mossbacks with sprouting mouth-straws exclaim: "By heck!"

Today, there is inclination to boast of originating in Kansas City, Omaha, Denver, or far lesser villages. Perhaps it is the civilizing influence of the radio and movie, but whatever it is, there is no longer that supercilious attitude toward the ac-laud.

Smart specialty shops once bore such proprietorial names as "Kiss of Paris" or "James of London," but now a port tea room in the fashionable East 50's beside its owner's, "formerly of Waycross, Ga.," a revenue raided speakeasy known tautologically as "The L.A. Lion" in Harlem, reconverts as "The Old Home Place."

What has been ballyhooed as the most sophisticated urly in the world—Broadway—has become immersed in country-town takenness. There is a Rackett Street, a Bury Bury restaurant, a pool hall known as The Creek and in front of two big hotels, chairs for guests at the curb of evenings.

At a stag dinner, my table companion was a boy, New Yorker, professorial in a local college, and when I told a joke pillowing a native New Yorker, he observed testily: "I happen myself to be autochthonous." He wasn't going to put on the lug with me, he told him I was, too. He inquired if I were "born in Manhattan," and I told him I was born in Plattburgh, Mo. And did I feel silly when I looked up that up-the-creek word?

Lillian Lorraine is living in retirement in an apartment on the west side. There is a feather of gray in her hair, but she is a performer. She made her "toast of the town" is astonishingly preserved. Her last appearance was as a night club hostess. In her day she was the Rialto's most irresponsible madcap, although she never missed a performance. Perhaps the best remembrance of her is when she was the starry-eyed censor she retains even after these 20 years.

I recall, too, a flight watching Miss Lorraine in the Police at the historic New Amsterdam. Never was I so emotionally entranced as at her entrance in a cathedral scene—a background of lancet windows and drapings of light as tender as colors of a pigeon's throat. Miss Lorraine, with tragic eyes upturned, and in sepulchral whine, moved to the footlights, her hands held piously in supplication. The music was hauntingly melancholy. Still in the steeplechase of her mood, I dropped in afterward at Joel's, across the street, to inaugurate a flagon of light Pilsener, and ponder. After time, a hoydenish creature breaded in, called the barkeep by name, and cried: "Ladle me out a setting of stingers. I feel like sowing a wild oat or so." It was Miss Lorraine, and I went straight home and tore up my letters to Santa Claus.

There was a powerful potion at Joel's, called the Blue Moon—Prussian blue in color and 40 cents the pop. Clyde von Maur, an artist—and where is he now?—and I went over from Hampton's magazine one day, feeling flush, and downed two in quick succession. Two hours later, at the office, we found the sheriff sealing the safe, and we were p-o-tentionally "at liberty." In the middle of a depression, incidentally. But we only looked at him, walked a-ckeept down several flights to John McGraw's ballbird parlors, strummed at cues in the racks as though they were harps, and gave our hilarious imitation of the city slicker and the postmaster's daughter. Then on our way home we chinned every Broadway lamp-post. The Blue Moon was that sort.

Life's Calling Your Bluff

TOUGH TIMES, these—Life's calling your bluff. Have been playing a game. A game like poker. Life dealing you, taking. And acting wise. Acting as if you held. All the aces. Well, maybe you have them. And maybe you haven't. Now's the time you've got to prove it.

For, a stranger. This is the showdown. Some call it "depression." Names don't matter. It's really a show-down. A show-down for everything. And everybody. A show-down to prove. Whether people and things are face cards. Or two-spots.

Life's saying to you. Saying to everybody: "What've you got in your hand? You've pretended to have A full house. Or a royal flush.

You've boasted that Nothing could lick you. Well, what about it? Life's calling your bluff. Here's your chance, now SHOW YOUR HAND!"

Life's calling your bluff; Saying that to you. What are you answering? Are you saying: "Hold on, Life! That isn't fair. Naturally I can make A good showing now. The market's crashed. The government's bloated. I've no job. No money. Can't borrow. Busted fins. But that's not my fault. It's not fair. To call me for that!" That's what you say, But Life answers: "I'm not asking A show-down on money. Or jobs, or credits. I'm asking A show-down on YOU. What are you holding On Y O U, YOURSELF? If Y O U, YOURSELF, Have got the stuff, You'll take the pot. Nothing can lick you. Things may be tough. Mighty tough. But nothing can lick you. If you've got the stuff, BUT HAVE YOU?"

"Have you got the stuff In Y O U, YOURSELF?" That's what Life is saying These days. And this: "Are you a self-starter. Or just a pan-handler? Have you brains, or Are you just a smarty? Have you courage, or Are you just a show-off? Brains and courage—They're the face cards! If you have those, You'll win any game. No more bluffing! The deal: But if you haven't, You're a wash-out. Even though you're dealt The whole pack. So quit your stalling. Kid, I'm calling you! No more bluffing! SHOW YOUR HAND!"

Just Folks

Have Done With Pity

When someone you know who has suffered a blow Comes in with a trinket to sell, Don't open your eyes with a look of surprise. Don't ask him his hard luck to tell. Don't say: "It's a strange, what a terrible change!" Don't give him a moment to wall. Don't share in his sob, he is back on the job! It's not pity he needs, but a sale!

The time has gone by when it's proper to sigh: Feeling sorry for men doesn't aid. When an old friend comes in fighting once more to win. Don't mention the blunders he's made. Don't say: "It's too bad, once a fortune you had!" For the world has grown sick of that tale. Pat his back for good luck. That will bolster his pace. It's not pity he needs, but a sale!

We have wipped out the past. To the future at last Every one of us now has to turn. All that counts is the man! So assist when you can And your pride in his grit let him learn. When you see him draw near, speak a word of good cheer, For his hold on himself still is frail. Don't belittle his deeds, but remember his needs. It's not pity he wants, but a sale!

Why Not a Woman in the Cabinet?

The Idea Might Appeal Especially to Gov. Roosevelt

MRS. FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT. SHE WOULD MAKE A GOOD CABINET OFFICER

The Evening Journal suggests to Governor Roosevelt that it would be an excellent thing, after his election, to recognize the ability of American women, their innumerable and admirable qualities, by including some intelligent woman in the United States Cabinet that Governor Roosevelt will be forming next March.

It is not necessary to tell Governor Roosevelt anything about the ability of American women. He lives surrounded by proof of that ability. His wife, whose father was a brother of the late Theodore Roosevelt, is in herself sufficient proof of the American woman's ability. She has taken good care of her fine family, of her husband, of her "job as the wife of the Governor of New York State" and at the same time she has found time and energy to look after a school in New York City, a long way from Albany, and to give lessons to the children.

Needless to say Governor Roosevelt would not consider appointing his own wife to the Cabinet, admirably as she would complete any task assigned to her. There are plenty of other capable women in the United States, expert material for Cabinet positions. Governor Roosevelt knows some of them, many others would be brought to his attention, if it were known that he might consider such an appointment.

The Department of Labor might well be in the hands of a woman, particularly as it includes the Department of Child Welfare and Health, which certainly an experienced woman could attend to better than any man, with greater sympathy, insight and devotion.

Several women have been elected to Congress, all have done good work, and earned the respect of their associates in the House.

A great forward step was taken when this country admitted the right of women to share in government by voting. Governor Roosevelt would take another important step, sure to be applauded by all good Americans, if he should select among the able women of the country, one as a member of the Cabinet that undoubtedly occupies his mind even now.

Public service is a matter of devotion to duty, and in that devotion women certainly surpass men.

One thing is sure, if a woman were appointed to the Cabinet of the United States, it would be useless to suggest to her that she sell or give away the oil reserves or other property of the United States.

It is also certain that any lobbyists, grafters or others, looking for special favors or privileges from any department of the government, would be extremely sorry to hear of the appointment of a woman Cabinet member.

WOMEN ARE HONEST.
